

FREE ENERGY ADVICE SESSION!

STAY WARM • SAVE MONEY • LIVE WELL

WHO ARE LSX?

London Sustainability Exchange (LSx) is a charity which works with community groups across the capital to help:

- Reduce London's environmental footprint
- Improve the mental and physical health of Londoners

This year we are offering free energy advice workshops as part of the Big Energy Saving Network. Lead by our specialists, our sessions can help residents to reduce household energy bills and improve warmth at home.

WHY THIS IS IMPORTANT!

- 341,000 households in London are in Fuel Poverty
- 2 in 3 people are paying too much for their electricity
- 1 in 10 people in London struggle to heat their homes
- The UK housing stock is some of the most energy inefficient in Europe

People who have not switched suppliers on average save £300 on their annual energy bill

Saving energy and money allows people to worry less about paying their household bills

FREE FUEL POVERTY ADVICE PRESENTATIONS FOR YOUR MEMBERS

Our workshops help people to save money on their energy bills and improve energy efficiency.

Our workshops will:

Help you understand how to switch energy supplier

Help you access any grants and benefits to which you may be entitled

Provide you with FREE energy saving materials such as LED bulbs, draught excluders and radiator reflector panels and show you how to fit them.

WHERE? St John's Church, 73 Waterloo Rd, Lambeth, London SE1 8TY

WHEN? Thursday 13th December 13.30 - 14.30

HOW LONG? The workshop should take between 20 to 30 minutes.
